(1) These rules apply to state agencies as defined in section 282.0041, Florida Statutes.

(2) These rules are designed to further state agency implementation of the cloud-first policy as provided in section 282.206, Florida Statutes, that requires state agencies to show a preference for cloud computing services that minimize or do not require the purchasing, financing, or leasing of state data center infrastructure when cloud-computing solutions meet the needs of the agency, reduce costs, and meet or exceed the applicable state and federal laws, regulations, and standards for information technology security.

(3) These rules establish the requirements for state agencies to create formal processes to provide a preference for and to properly evaluate cloud computing services during procurement while ensuring that state agencies have adequately addressed and demonstrated protections to ensure that systems provisioned in the cloud are appropriately secure and performant, appropriate to the workload and data hosted, and ultimately ensure the availability, integrity and confidentiality of state data and resources.

(4) Definitions:

(a) Breach - has the same meaning as provided in section 501.171, Florida Statutes.

(b) Cloud Computing – a service, solution or option as defined in Special Publication 800-145 issued by the National Institute for Standards and Technology (NIST).

(c) Cloud Service Provider – Person, organization, or entity responsible for making a cloud computing service, solution or option available to a consumer.

(d) Data – has the same meaning as defined in section 282.0041, Florida Statutes.

60GG-4.002 Cloud Procurement and Contractual Elements

(1) As part of their cloud-first policy, the state agency will develop formal procedures to be used when procuring information technology that establish a preference for cloud computing.

(2) Where products or services are required for cloud migration and integration with products or services hosted at the State Data Center (SDC), the state agency shall consult with the Division of State Technology (DST) prior to the procurement of cloud services to ensure compatibility and security. The state agency will document such consultation in writing.

(3) The state agency will maintain and provide to DST by October 15 of each year a comprehensive, documented record of applications, workload, data, and services procured or placed into a cloud service provider environment. The record will include the business system’s common name, purpose, operating requirements, and estimated annual cost of cloud computing.

(4) The state agency will ensure that security and interoperability with applications that interface outside the cloud service provider’s cloud are well documented and addressed, including data egress charge models.

(5) The state agency will ensure that technical security controls are commensurate with the data’s classification as defined in Rule Chapter 60GG-2, Information Security, F.A.C.

(6) The state agency will ensure that contracts reflect the restriction on the geographic location of data to the continental United States unless approved in writing by the agency head or designee. Remote access to data, other than open data, from outside the continental United States is prohibited unless approved in writing by the agency head or designee.

(7) Prior to execution of the contract and deployment of a cloud computing service, the state agency shall ensure that the cloud service provider delivers audit reports based on the classification of the data, for the agency assessment of the effectiveness and suitability of the cloud service provider. (8) The state agency will maintain data ownership and will include contractual provisions for portability for risk management purposes.

(9) The state agency will include contract provisions, associated with end of contract or breach of contract, that fully document the exit strategy for cloud computing services or applications, including data acquisition, migration strategy, high-level timeline, and costs.

(10) The state agency will ensure that Service Level Agreement (SLA) requirements for cloud computing availability, performance, and response are included in the contract.

(11) The contract will provide for performance and service level monitoring and reporting from the cloud service provider to the state agency.

(12) The state agency will ensure contractual financial consequences are included in the contract in the event of the cloud service provider’s failure to perform as agreed under the terms of the service level agreement, consistent with applicable law.

(13) The state agency will validate that the cloud service provider’s disaster recovery plan is developed commensurate with data classification and complies with Rule Chapter 60GG-2, Florida Administrative Code, Information Technology Security. If the disaster recovery plan is modified during the contract term, the cloud service provider will provide the modified plan to the state agency.

(2) The state agency will establish and document, in advance of contract execution, an acceptable threshold for budgeted variance and mitigation plan based upon risk tolerance.

(3) The state agency will perform a documented review of budgeted versus actual cloud spend on a monthly basis and maintain records for at least 24 months or in compliance with retention schedules, whichever is longer.

The state agency will base the data classification on the Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) Publication No. 199.

(4) The state agency will develop a security plan that documents compliance with applicable data classification requirements.

(5) The state agency will conduct and document a security assessment for the implementation of each cloud service, which will contain data classified as moderate or higher based on the data classification of FIPS Publication No. 199, and consider the potential risk of breach of data deployed in the cloud. This assessment may be performed by a third party (to include a government entity).

(6) To prevent Internet Protocol (IP) routing conflicts, state agencies will consult with the Division of State Technology (DST) prior to the use of cloud-based services where DMS allocated IP addresses (including RFC1918 IP addresses) will be assigned to cloud-based resources that have State Data Center (SDC) or state intranet connectivity requirements. The state agency will document such consultation in writing.
